There Comes a Time.

There comes a time when we grow old. And like a sunset down the sea Sinpe gradual, and the night wind cold. Comes whispering, sad and chilling And locks are gray As winter's day. And eyes of saddest blue behold The leaves all weary drift away.

There comes a time when we grow old There comes a time when joyous hearts, Which leaped as leaped the laughing main As prisoner in his duogeon chain And dawn of day

And tips of faded coral say,

Hath passed away. The moon hath into darkness rolled ; And by the embers warm and gray, I hear a voice in whisper say, There comes a time when we grow old.

Is shrouded in the mist of years ; And beauty, fading like a dream, Hath passed away in silent tears; And then how dark ! But oh! the spark That kindled youth to hues of gold, Still burns with clear and steady ray. And fond affections lingering, say,

There comes a time when manhood's prime

There comes a time when we grow old There comes a time when laughing spring And golden summer cease to be, And we put on the autumn robe, To tread the last declivity ; But now the slope, With rosy hope,

Beyond the sunset we behold-Another dawn, with fairer light, While watchers whisper through the night, There comes a time we ne'er grow old."

They are now making gilt-edged paper collars and just as soon as the public can be educated up to the point of wearing them there will be no further need of dollar-store jewelry.

. It is said by historians that Florida husbands and wives quarrel less than the married: reason is because the weather is always warm, and the husband can lay out nights after getting intox-

An Iowa man obtained a divorce from his wife and then hired her for a cook. The woman is delighted with the change, because now she can have a new dress occasionally and a little pinmoney in her pocket book.

When the late Dr. Scudder of India was arousing the children of America to care for the beathen, he received a note from a little girl, saying: "My Dear Dr. Scudder, I send you 10 cents. When you want any more money, write

A new style of shirt-collar is run with lead at the back, so, if the button comes off the shirtband, the collar will not climb up the back of the wearer's head every time he stoops forward. This is equivalent to equipping several hundred

A father, fearing an earthquake in the region of his home, sent his two boys to a distant friend's until the peril should be over. A few weeks after he received this letter from his friend: "Please take your boys home and send down the earthquake."

It never pays to fret and growl when the future seems our foe; the better bred will push ahead and strike a braver blow. For luck is work, and those who shirk should not lament their doom, but yield the play and clear the way, that better

A certain ambassador to a European court was asked by the queen, a remarkably handsome woman, whether a noted beauty in his own country was in reality the most beautiful lady he had ever met. "Your majesty, I thought so until to-day," was the graceful reply.

A WANT SOON SUPPLIED .- "Give us," says the New Hampshire Workingman's Advocate, "the man with brown hands, smut on his nose, and sweat on his forehead. All right-sent him by express last night; also a woman with a long chin and a wart on her nose, to keep him company,-Detroit Free Press.

"Oh, yes, gimme ten cents worth of hair pins," added an up river farmer, as he was about to leave a store, and, while they were being handed down, he continued: "It's h'ar pins to-day and ribbons to-morrow, and a tooth brush next day. The gal is always wanting some flim-flam thing, and I shouldn't be surprised if she'd some day get up and want me to bring home one of them combs with a brass

They met on Michigan avenue. One was carrying a large parcel and the other was carrying a sorrowful face. 4 Hain't you carrying parcels any more?" queried the small boy. "Not much!" replied the other. "It paid well enough, and a feller could wear good clothes and put on some dignity; but when it got so that the head clerk followed me around in a hack to see if I stopped to play marbles I thought it was time to quit!

George Washington couldn't tell a lie, and that's what ails the average Vicksburg boy. The other day, when one of them accidentally broke a pane of glass in a store window, it was touching to see him walk into the store and up to the merchant and say: "Mr. Blank, I broke a pane of glass in the window there, and you can charge it to the old man's account! Put it down as a pound of saleratus, and he'll never know the

The editor of the Ukiah (Cal.) Democrat, having recently suggested that there were other vocations more suitable for a woman than editing a newspaper during a political campaign, Mrs. Belle Lynch, of the Ukiah Dispatch, thus annihilates him: "If only men are to fight the battle of this campaign, the editor of the Democrat had better put on a checked apron, get him a hank of yarn and some knitting needles, and a pair of brass mounted spectacles, and retire from the stormy conflict."

The New Orleans Times intemperately observes that whiskey is always kicking up a rumpus somewhere. Sometimes it nestles in the hat of a man as a jolly brick, sometimes in the boots of a man as a hissing serpent, and anon it wraps the pavement around the weary traveler, and induces him to believe the flags a patchwork quilt, a stone sill a soft bolster, the street lamp a bedpost, and the gutter a babbling brook. It is worse than Banquo's ghost, yet unlike that classic spook, it will "down" at any man's bidding.

UNBRELLA HONESTY .- During the rain Monday a party stepped into Merrill's grocery and asked for the loan of an umbrella. He was promptly accommodated. "Yon're a pretty obliging man, observed a customer, after the stanger stepped out. "That's a mighty honest fellow," claimed Mr. Merrill. "An honest or more generous man you won't find in a day's travel. He has got a number of umbrellas of me, but he always brings back a better one in return. He changes 'em somehow, but how I don't know, and I don't care. I see he's honest, an' that's all I care GROCERY, FEED STORE AND BAKERY, about it."-Danbury News.

THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS ARE noted the world over for their unrivaled salubrity of climate. Certain localities in the group are especially favored in this way.—The District of Kons, on the leeward side of Hawaii, has long been famed as a place of resort for invalids with bronchital, or lung diseases. With its pure and mild atmosphere, with its absolute freedom from storms or high winds, with its porous soil which, with all its rich vegetation, retains no dampness and yields no maisris, and with an unvarying temperature—that of the American or southern Suropean June—ALL. THE YEAR ROUND, the climate of Kona is one of the healthlest and most luxurious on the globe.
